When a man bas been snatched, as it were from the very jaws of death, and given a new lease of heatiny life by means of a simple remedy, it is natural for him to be enthusiastic in his praise of the means which delivered him from deadly peril. Mr. B. H. Byrd, who is the postmaster at Lady Lake, Sumter county, Fla., as well as a leading merchant of that place, under date of May 4, 1887, writes:

under date of May 4, 1887, writes:

GENTLEMEN: Allow me to congratulate and return thanks for the wonderful success your 8, 8, 8, has proved in my case. You remember about a year sgo I wrote you in reference to my case. I was treated by three skillful jury-stelage, but with to relief. I suffered a groat deal of uncasines, beddes a great deal of pain. I must say that the contents of one dozen bottles of 8, 8, has almost removed a cancer from my face, which no doubt would have soon hurried me to my garve.

I shall always keep a good supply in my store, and urge the sale of the same. I do think it is wonderful and has be equal. I am, yours truly.

THE WASHINGTONS WIN A GAME I BRILLIANT STYLE.

Whitney's Pitching Proves Too Much for the White Stockings-Result of Comes in Other Cities.-The Winners on the Tarf-Other Sporting News.

Big Jim Whitney was too much for the champion Chicago Club yesterday. By his steady and even pitching the Washingtons were enabled to gain their second victory this week over Arron's aggregation. The game was a closs and interesting one all the way through, but finally terminated 3 to 0 in the Statesmen's favor. This result, however, could have been different had Anson so desired. The big captain in the Arison so desired. The big captain in the lest half of the minth inning, after Sullivan had atruck out, knocked the ball over left field fence for a home run, but instead of making a circuit of the diamond be stopped on third base. Evidently this move was made so that Mack would have to stand up behind the but and Whitney in consequence race up on his captain. ney in consequence case up on his cannon-ball delivery. Auson's tactics did not work, ney in consequence case up on his cannon-ball delivery. Anson's tactics did not work, however, as the next two strikers were castly refired without a run being scored, and Anson was left on third. This is the first time that this play has been attempted on the Washington base ball grounds and was a novelty to a great number of the spectators present.

The visitors outbatted the home team on the sactual number of hits, but they were scattered and made mostly when two men were out. The Statesmen, on the contrary, were fortunate in gaining theirs when most needed, and that fact, together with clever base running on the part of Carroll, Hines, and Myers, coupled with Flint's passed balls and wild throw, gained for the Statesmen the only three-runs scored during the entire game. The Chicagos, as well as the Senators, gave a fair fielding exhibition, some of the plays calling forth a liberal amount of applause. Hines and Daly distinguished themselves by making several difficult running catches, as did also Van Haltren and Ryan. Donnelly executed a clever one-handed stop of a hot liner; Myers took a hot one from Anson's bat, and, indeed, sil the local team did clever work. The Windy City lads called forth the approbation of the assemblage present by making three double plays. Attendance about 1,000. Score:

NEW YORK, July 13.—The New York club played in better form to-day, and by timely batting managed to win a game from the Pitts-burg men. Not ever 1,509 spectators were present. Ewing officiated as captain, although ne had not formally accepted the position. Precident Day insists that Ward's removal was necessary in order to procure harmony among the team, but Ward says that if there was any celing against him he did not know it. He also states that he could not captain the nine successfully under the existing management of the club. The crowd at the game to-day took every occasion to show its kindly feeling for the deposed captain. Every time Ward came to the bat he was cheered toud and long, Keefe rejoined his club, and prevented the visitors from bunching their hits. Both nines fielded in splendid form, and brilliant plays were numerous. The score:

UNDERVALUATIONS

A Letter From Assistant Secretary Maynard on Appraisals of Steel. Acting Secretary Maynard has written a letter to the collector of customs at New York in regard to the alleged undervaluation at that port of steel slabs imported for a manufacturing company at Terra Haute. Ind. He refers to reports received from and. He refers to reports received from special agents giving instances where such merchandise has been undervalued, and calls attention to one case in particular where a merchant appraiser selected to make responsisements was directly interested in the question at issue. Assistant Secretary Maynard suggests greater care in the selection of merchant appraisers, and also calls attention to the necessity of exercising the full power conferred by law in determining the dutiable value of imported merchandise.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

A Plan for Collecting Statistics Submitted to Secretary Lamar. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, has submitted to the Secretary of the Interior a plan for carrying out the provis-ions of the law passed March 3, 1887, en-abling the commissioner to collect and report to Copgress statistics of and relating to marriage and divorce in the several states and territories, and in the District of Columbia. The commissioner proposes to collect the information called for from courts having divorce jurisdiction and from other official courses. other official sources, for a period of twesty years, that is, from 1867 to 1886, inclusive. Mr. Wright expresses the opinion that st tistics on these subjects for a less period of time would be of comparatively little value.

Classification of Tobacco A question was recently presented to the Treasury Department by the collector of customs at Detroit, Mich., as to whether customs at Detroit, Mich., as to whether damage sustained by leaf tobacco of the wrapper class on the voyage of importation should be taken into consideration in determining the classification of the tobacco. Assistant Secretary Maynard has informed him that the question of classification and damage must be determined separately and apart from each other, and that in the case in question duty must be assessed on the tobacco according to its weight and texture, after which allowages for damage may be after which allowages for damage may be

THE ARTHUR KILL BRIDGE. Continuation of the Arguments to the Injunction Case. TRENTON, N. J., July 13.-The hearing in the great railroad case was resumed this morning before Justice Bradley. A. Q. Keasley occupied a short time closing his argument for the defendant begun vesterday afternoon. Courtiandt Parker then began for the state. He said the case, according to the defendant, was between sovereignities. New Jersey was a lesser sovereignity than that of the United States government, but within a special and wider field was as sovereign as the Union. He showed how the rules of sovereignty could be applied to her, and claimed that as a sovereign the state owned the bed of the waters which bound the shore in the same way as individuals own property. No corporation can exercise its functions outside of the state which created it without consent. The defendants abrogate that law in attempting to enter the state against the will of the citizens. He thought the law of ownership claimed by the defendant very strange. Keasley occupied a short time closing by the will of the citizens. He thought the law of ownership claimed by the defendant very straige.

If the property belonged to private persons it could not be taken without compensation. Not once has the United States occupied soil of the state without obtaining cession. He dwelt at length on the sovereignty of the state and the distinctive powers of the federal government, and declared that if the right to build the bridge was possessed by Congress it was subject to the right of the state, He claimed that New York or New Jersey had not the right to erect a bridge without the consent of the other. Mr. Parker characterized the set of Congress under which the defendant acts as valueless unless under franchises of the state the corporation is enabled to enter New Jersey. The course of New Jersey in this litigation is not sentimental, but merely an assertion of her rights for the benefit of her citizens. The most important part of the litigation was the danger to the untional system of sovereignty in the states necessary to our existence as a nation. New Jersey leds in the formation of the constitution, and she, now that Congress has overruled her, stands forth in the assertion of her sovereignty.

BATHING AT FRENCH RESORTS.

The Elaborate Preparations and the Extent of the Bath.

[Boston Post.]
To begin with, the bathing boxes are made attractive and light by their canvas covers stretched over a pretty shaped framework of wood. A mirror and a rack of fresh towels, a basin, and such necessities of the dressing room adorn the interior, as well as a soft rug on the floor. The bathing master is in attendance, and a bull on the little bell rope which hangs inside the door brings his alert little person to the bath house to do the bidding of the occupant. This cheerful attendant arranges monsieur's bathing wardrobe and dressing case, and provides him with warm water, all for the modest sum of one franc. When the bather is arranged in his bathing suit of careful cut, with his long mantle deftly adjucted by his valet of the bath, he daintily treads his way toward the platform extendwork of wood. A mirror and a rack of treads his way toward the platform extend-ing out into the water and which ends in a springboard. He makes up his mind as he wanders along to the shock of his first leap nto the blue water. Another bathing man is ready to receive our gentleman as soon as be shall reach the first breaker, to help ss he shall reach the first breaker, to help him to swim, if he need such assistance, or tell him where are the safe places.

On the opposite side are the bathing machines for the laddes, with a neat little coffed maid in attendance. Here there is the extra garment of the bath—the cork jacket—which the polite little mistress of the bath inefists that madame shall wear, willy nilly. Two hours is not considered too long for a bath at Trouville, walle at a fashionable American resort half an hour is thought to be quite enough, if not a wicked waste of precious time. PENSIONED FOR LIFE.

Donkey Which Aided to Discover Bonanza to Benefit Therefrom

[Portland Oregonian.] A small old gray donkey, a regular burro," an animal familiar in mining egions, but seldom seen here, passed regions, but seldom seen here, passed through the city yesterday by express, consigned to Mrs. J. B. Ward, Forest Grove. A notice on the side of the crate informed the curious that the animal's name was "John Kellogg," with whom it shares the honor of discovering the Bunker Hill mire, the richest mineral lode of the west. The story goes that the patient, fatthful animal has shared with his master the toils of prospecting for many years, packing his bacon and beans, his pick and shovel, and all his other belongings, sustaining himself on bacon and gunnles, tin cans, and what odds and ends and crusts his kind master could provide, eked out by any vegetation odds and ends and crusts his kind master could provide, eked out by any vegetation which came to hand—or rather to moute. While prospecting in the Wardner hills Mr. Kellogg sat down to eat his luncheon, and the burro, probably tired of his wandering, unsettled course of life, began to paw away the show and uncovered a cropping of mineral. Mr. Kellogg wiped his lips, took up his pick, and the rich discovery of the Bunker Hill was made and his home stake secured.

Bunker Hill was made and his home stake secured.

Like a thoughtful, kind-hearted man, he determined his faithful burro should share his good luck, and so he sent the animal by express all the way to Forest Grove, there to revel in clover the remainder of his days. The Hittle animal, as it stood in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s yard yesterday attracted much attention. He had gorged blimself on the cate, and stood in the shade, a picture of content, carelessly flicking a fly off his rump with one ear, and another from his fetlock with the other. The hair was all worn off his back, and he looked rough and shagged, but he has carnad his rest, and it is to be hoped he may long live to enjoy it. enjoy it.

The Usual Connecticut Verdict. NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 13.—Henry B. Chemberlain, the murderer of Margaret Ernst, was to day found guilty of morder in the second degree, and sent to price for life. The nurder was committed May 10, when Chamberlain as denother rough brutally murdered the old woman for the purposes of robbery.

Session of Patri archal Circles. MILWAUREE, July 13 .- The Grand Conclave Milwauker, July 18.—The Grand Conclave of the Patriarchal Circles opened here to-day with an address of welcome by Mayor Wallber. The lady friends of the supreme temple pre-scated it a beautiful slik dag. Thore was a grand parade and review this ovening, a con-cert and bail at Schille's Park. The Strike on the "L" Road. BROOKLYN, July 13 .- Trains on the elevate 1 ratirond were run at irregular and long inter-vals to-day. Both sides express confidence as to the outcome. A conference between repre-entatives of the road, the strikers, and the state board of arbitration was held during the day. A Murderer Hanged.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., July 12—Archie Martin who murdered Henry McNeill last May, was hanged to-day. He acknowledged his guilt, MATERIAL DECLINES.

Considerable Long Stock Unloaded on the Market. New Yone, July 13.-The stock market

early in the day showed no change from the dullness and stagnation of the past two days, and gave no promise of anything different. About noon, however, several traders began to offer Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton stock. The last sale, which was some weeks ago, was at 140, and the stock was offered to-day down to par, while the lowest bid made for it was 40; not a single sale, however, was recorded during the day. Simultaneously with this experience a vigorous attack was madeupon the general list, which succeeded in bringing out considerable long stock from weak holders, and material declines were established in many of the active stocks.

There was no news whatever to cause a decline, but the uncertainties and contradictory reports in regard to the Baltimore and Ohlo deal has caused a feeling of nervousness, which rendered the list specially open to such attacks. The coal stocks, as a class, were also remarkably weak, Jersey Central especially, while the selling of licading was very heavy, though it met with considerable support. There and Dayton stock. The last sale, which selling of lieading was very heavy, though it met with considerable support. There was something of a raily from the lowest figures, but the Iceling remained to the close feverish and unsettled.

Money on call has been easy, ranging from 4 to 6, last loan at 6, and closing offered at 4. Sterling exchange is dull and steady. Actual business at 482 to 4824 for 60-day bills, and 4834 to 4837 for demand. Poeted rates 4834 to 485 for demand. Poeted rates 4834 to 485 Government bonds have been dull and steady. State bonds have been dull and steady. Treasury balances—Coin, $184,000,712; currency, $12,462,891.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.] While milk is kept on ice, in the milk-man's can or in the domestic refrigerator. t is continually receiving the germs, become ing more and more infected with the germof decomposition. The practical lessor from all this is the necessity of boiling milior other artificial food for children shortly before it is given as nourishment. This cannot be too strongly impressed upon the mitds of all concerned in the welfare of children, and the younger the child the greater the importance of observing the rule.

MILK FOR CHILDREN.

All Milk Given to Infants Should Be

Boiled,

children, and the younger the child the greater the importance of observing the rule.

In the carliest months of life a feeding tettle of some sort is a necessity, but it should be discarded as soon as possible. A child may be taught to drink from a glass or cup at quite an early age, and the earlier the better. The construction of the nursing bottle is such that great care, constantly observed, will alone insure safety. The simpler the form of the bottle the easier it will be to keep its clean. Two of them should be in use, one in strong solution of blearbonate of sods, after thorough scalding, while the other contains the food for immediate feeding. Carclessaces in the management of the feeding bottle is the cause of death in numberless instances every summer. The presence of the decomposing food in the digestive tract of the child acts as a powerful tritiant, probably by reason of poisons developed from the undigested articles of food by the process of putrefaction. Pure sugar, than which nothing can be less harmful, when decomposed by the growth of the yeast plant, procues alcohol and carbonic acid gas, both powerful poisons to the higher grales of life, and in considerable quantity destructive to the very agents (the plants) which produced them. In the same way all food stuffs, when decomposed, produce deadly poison. Some of them act something like croton oil and the other irritant vegetable poisons, and cause profuse watery evacantious from the bowels—"sum vegetable poisons, and cause profuse watery evacuations from the bowels—"summer complaint." Others resemble optum or morphine—cause stupor and convul-sions.

A Real Estate Deal.

[Dakota Bell.]
"Pullem," said a Dakota real estate agent, in a town which is enjoying a boom, to his pertner, "I closed the deal with that may from Philadelphia."

from Philadelphia."
"Is that so?"
"Yes, he takes the five lots and pays $19,000. Let's figure up and see how we came out on them."
"Well, they cost us $1,000."
"Yes, and it took about $200 to treat and entertain that man from Chicago whom we tried to sell to."
"And I let the St. Paul man beat me out of $300 at poker in hope of selling to him."

"Then I cashed a bogus draft of $250 for that man from New York and then he skipped out without buying."
"Then that Iowa man took up two days of our time at $50 a day."

"Then that Iowa man took up two days of our time at $50 a day."
"Yes, and said he wanted to think about it before buying. And then the St. Louis man I took him home to dinner with me, he stole sliverware to the value of $15, and skipped like the rear."
"And I paida $10 drunk and disorderly fine for the Milwaukee man."
"We mustn't forget to figure in about $50 for livery bille."
"No, nor $25 for speeding half a day to go to church with that Boston man."
"And put down $100 for advertising, and $20 that I had to pay Jones for keeping still when he accidently overheard me tell this man we sold to that the marsh just beyond the lots was an artificial lake pas in by the city at a cost of $30,000."
"Let's see—total, $2,050—proft, $7,95 That won't hardly do—we've got to make more than that."
"Yes, we must cut down expenses on the next deal somewhere. I guess we bet ter not spend time going to church with any more men."

Warranted by the Exigency. [Dakota Bell.]

A number of years ago, during the grasshopper raids in Dakota and other narts of the west, Elder Blodgett held a series of revival meetings in a smail place in the southeastern part of the territory, where the settlement then was chiefly confined.
He had presched a powerful sermon, and had induced about two-thirds of the concreation to come forward and indicate (Dakota Bell.)

bad induced about two-thirds of the cougregation to come forward and indicate their desire to unite with the church. Fearing that some might not fully understand the new duties the step would involve, he began to explain what they must not do in the future.

"You must stop lyin' an' cheatin' an'
Sabbath-breakin'," he said, "an' if any of you're been stealing' you're got to stop that, too. An' there must be no more covetin' or beighborhood quarrelin', and no swearing".

"Elder," said a grizzled old fellow who was kneeling in front of the pulpit, as he was kneeling in front of the pulpit, as he roised his head, "ye say we musu't swear "That's it-ve musn't swear at all." "Can't we curse the hoppers?"

"No, sir."
"Well, that let's me out, then " and he ose and started back.
"Ma too " out, in a dozen others as they "Me, too!" put in a dozen others as they began to get up. "Hold on!" shouted the elder, as the put in a dozen others as they "Hold on:" shouted the elder, as the finite of the labor began to vanish. "Come back, an' I reckon ye can swear bout the hoppers a little. Cuss 'em quietly when there sin't nobody 'round, an' then pray that they won't come next summer. This is the third year they've been here, an' I low myself it's 'bout time we backed up our prayers with a little something kinde strong." Puryear Respited. BICHMOND, VA., July 13.—All efforts to ob-ain executive elemency, in behalf of Holmes R.
